

A PRINTABLE, FIRST-ANSWER WORKBOOK

Managing Partner Personal Learning Booklet

One guided case. A baseline, an immediate check, and a delayed check.

READING ORDER

- 1 Answer the baseline questions on pages 3-6 before playing.
- 2 Play and log the guided case on pages 7-8.
- 3 Open pages 10-13 only after the case; write first answers before discussion.
- 4 Open pages 16-19 after 2-4 weeks, before reviewing earlier answers.

Personal code (not your name): _____

First session date: _____

Planned delayed-check date: _____

Print at 100% on US Letter. For a folded booklet, use your printer's booklet setting; this PDF is in normal reading order. Keep pages 10-20 closed until directed.

Before you begin

Use the frozen guided-case build learning-study-d1 (commit ac673842). Use a separate browser profile or origin so your existing save stays intact. Write first answers in ink; do not revise them after discussion.

FIRST-ANSWER RULE

Answer without opening the game, rubric, or later questions. 'I don't know' is a valid answer. Record confidence from 0-100 after each response. Keep the scoring key and explanations out of view until the delayed check is complete.

Prior game exposure (what and when): _____

Prior GR experience / approximate years: _____

Business or firm-management experience / years: _____

Browser profile / device: _____

Full build SHA or current build, if different: _____

SESSION SEQUENCE

Baseline: about 5 minutes. Guided case: target 20-30 minutes. Immediate questions: about 5 minutes, before feedback. Delayed questions: 2-4 weeks later, with no replay or note review first.

The in-game application question, case completion, and technical checks are practice or usability evidence. They are not a learning score. After the delayed form, review the first answers with the 0-2 rubric and look for reasoning that improved, persisted, or weakened.

PART 1 / BEFORE PLAY

C / Cash and profit

Complete this page before opening the game. Do not turn to the posttest.

Riverton Strategy Group reports $26,400 profit for June but has $7,800 in the bank. A client owes $13,600 for work already billed, and the owners propose a $9,400 withdrawal. What would you check before approving it? If that old invoice is paid, what changes in cash, receivables, and June profit?

Harbor Counsel already serves nine accounts with a team close to its service limit. A maritime company offers $13,500 per month to advocate for a freight rule opposed by an existing environmental-coalition client. What must the firm learn or review before accepting? What options could it consider?

Juniper Strategies has time for one major senior-partner escalation this month. One client is upset about a missed report, a routine public-calendar scan is due, and a possible new-client conflict needs review. Three trained staff members are available. What should the partner handle, delegate, or oversee, and what is the cost of using personal attention here?

PART 2 / DURING PLAY

Case log / January-February

Choose freely. Jot short notes after each round if useful; do not interrupt the game just to complete the log.

Case start time: _____ Device / browser: _____

JANUARY

Choice or branch: _____

What I expected: _____

What actually happened: _____

Help, reading pause, or confusion: _____

FEBRUARY

Choice or branch: _____

What I expected: _____

What actually happened: _____

Help, reading pause, or confusion: _____

Record an expectation and the actual result separately. The case's prediction and reflection prompts remain the practice activity.

PART 2 / DURING PLAY

Case log / March-April

MARCH

Choice or branch: _____

What I expected: _____

What actually happened: _____

Help, reading pause, or confusion: _____

APRIL REVIEW / RENEWAL OUTCOME

Choice or branch: _____

What I expected: _____

What actually happened: _____

Help, reading pause, or confusion: _____

Case end time: _____ Paused / interrupted minutes: _____

Actual game-play minutes: _____

If you stopped before April, record where and why in the space above. Do not treat completion or renewal as a learning result.

STOP

Open after the April review

Pages 10-13 contain new situations. Answer each one immediately after play, before discussing the game, reopening its review, or looking up the rubric.

BEFORE TURNING THE PAGE

- ☐ The guided case is finished or I recorded where I stopped.
- ☐ My choices, timing, and help are recorded.
- ☐ I have not read the posttest questions yet.

PART 3 / IMMEDIATELY AFTER PLAY

C / Cash and profit

Write the first answer before discussion or feedback. Do not revise it later.

Pelican Public Strategies reports $22,700 profit for July and has $6,400 in the bank. Today it receives $11,300 for an invoice billed in June; $8,900 payroll is due tomorrow. What changes immediately in cash, receivables, and July profit? What else would you check before committing cash?

Solstice Advisory serves seven clients. A neighborhood group offers $10,700 per month for work on a waterfront siting decision opposed by an existing port client. The team is nearly full; hiring would cost $4,700 up front plus ongoing salary and benefits. What would you review before any commitment, and how would you weigh a narrower assignment, holding, or declining?

Briar Policy Partners can personally lead one major escalation this week. A late-paying client needs a difficult call, another client needs a factual status update, and a prospect needs conflict review. One trained billable analyst is available. Which work should the partner own, delegate, or oversee? If the partner makes the payment call, what becomes unavailable?

Aspen Advocacy delivered all agreed briefings on schedule. A state board then delays a hearing by seven weeks, and a long-standing client unexpectedly does not renew. What can the partner infer from those events, what further facts matter, and what should the firm communicate or do next? Would spending more on a senior meeting guarantee a different result?

AFTER ALL FOUR FIRST ANSWERS

Experience notes

Keep these observations separate from the transfer answers. Write concrete moments rather than a single overall rating.

USABILITY

What information or control was hard to find? Any help needed?

ENJOYMENT

What did you enjoy or dislike?

AGENCY

Which choice required thought? Which felt automatic?

READING BURDEN

When did play feel like reading rather than managing?

TECHNICAL

Any error, reload, clipped control, or interruption?

Delayed-check date (2-4 weeks later):

STOP

Wait for the delayed check

When the date arrives, answer pages 16-19 without replaying the game or reviewing your earlier answers first. Record any intervening exposure; then you can score and discuss all three sets.

BEFORE TURNING THE PAGE

- ☐ At least 2 weeks have passed since the measured play.
- ☐ I have not reviewed my earlier answers today.
- ☐ I will record any replay, reading, or discussion since then.

PART 4 / DELAYED CHECK

C / Cash and profit

Answer without looking at earlier responses or the rubric. Record any intervening exposure on page 20.

Calder Public Affairs reports $31,200 of August profit, holds $5,900 cash, and has a $16,700 invoice for work billed in July. A $7,200 tax payment and $11,400 payroll are due soon. The invoice clears today. What changes now in cash, receivables, and August profit? What would you check before a partner distribution?

Meridian Counsel has six clients and little spare billable capacity. A transit supplier offers $12,600 a month for work on a procurement rule; an existing rider coalition opposes the supplier's position. A hire would add $6,100 in initial cost and recurring pay. What must be reviewed before accepting, and how could the partner compare a narrower scope, a delay, and declining?

Elm Street Policy has one senior-partner escalation slot this period. An existing client disputes a deliverable, a trained associate can prepare a routine legislative update, and a prospect needs a possible-conflict review. What should the partner own, delegate, or oversee? What is given up if the partner personally leads the client conversation?

GENERAL 0-2 REASONING RULE

0 = no relevant reasoning or a clear misconception. 1 = a relevant factor without a causal link and tradeoff or missing-information condition. 2 = a causal link plus a tradeoff, boundary, or missing fact. Score first answers only; use NA for skipped or interrupted questions.

FIRST-ANSWER SCORE RECORD

Concept	Before	Immediate	Delayed
C Cash / profit
G Growth / fit
A Attention
U Uncertainty

ONE GAP TO PRACTICE

EVERY 4-8 WEEKS

For a fresh fictional or de-identified partner decision, write known facts, missing facts, options and opportunity costs, a prediction and confidence before the outcome, then what happened and what you would do next time. Review the journal quarterly with an experienced partner if available.

These notes can guide your practice. One person's scores and game outcomes do not prove the game caused professional readiness.
